Message from Chairman

Dear friends,

We love being loved. Deepavali is the festival brings us together in celebrations with our close friends and relations. We are fortunate to celebrate this Deepavali with our extended families through Sewa and bring more happiness in them. This year we could serve more widows, the old and the infirm. More hostel facilities are were created for street children, destitute and orphans to bring qualitative changes in their lives. May Lord Rama give us more strength to serve more and more people in the coming years. Let us light the lamp of service to bring smiles in their life. Happy Deepavali. - CHELLARAM N.KRIPALANI

Editorial ....

Message of Deepavali is to spread knowledge and awareness. Deepavali celebrated on the occasion of the return of Prabhu Rama to Ayodhya from his 14-year exile with Sita and Lakshman after killing of demon king Ravan on Vijayadasami day. The people of Ayodhya lighted earthen diyas (oil lamps) and celebrated with fireworks on return of their king. The festival spiritually signifies the victory of light over darkness or good over evil, knowledge over ignorance, and hope over despair. The main festival night of Deepavali coincides with the darkest new moon night.

At Jai Shivshakti we are focused at making the dependent families to stand on their own feet with dignity by providing Education and Vocational Training. This year we could associate with many organisations that work among street children and provide them support in creating necessary homes. Left to themselves these children would have ended up with drugs and brutalized by anti-social elements of the urban society. It is our collective responsibility to help such unfortunate children with love, care and education. This is new learning curve for us which we want to expand in coming years.

Wish you all happy and prosperous Deepavali.

INTRODUCING

DOSTI PROJECT, MUMBAI

Smt Ujwala Waghamare with Trustees

Self-Defense classes to slum girls

50 community girls from nearby slum came together to dance their way in crowded Worli Naka caught the imagination of the public. They are demanding all public places with freedom of safety for women in Mumbai. This is the 'flash mob' organised by Dosti Project to show people that we want to make these areas equally safe for girls as it is for boys.

Dosti Project was started by Sri HS Kundan in the year 1997 through Haribhai Harkishindas Trust came a long way in empowering the slum dwellers in Worli. After his demise his son Sri Pradeep Kundan along with Ms Marie D'Souza continued the service. Since 2013 Jai Shivshakti Health and Educational Foundation, Bengaluru (JSSF) supports most of its activities.

Under the able guidance of Smt. Ujwala Waghmare the project touches every household in the slum taking care of their social, physical, mental and financial development of women and spreading education to the needy children living in the community. Care is taken to send all the children in the slums to schools and all the expenses ranging from uniforms, stationary and travel expenses of about 132 children is borne by JSSF. Regular checks, parents meetings and school visits are also done to keep a check on the quality of education. Balwadi for younger children conducted through play way methods. Regular tuition classes and study circle are held to promote reading habits.

Work with women was started gradually after knowing and building relations with the children's parents. Awareness campaign on various issues is popular among women through which benefits of various government schemes and policies are explained and assistance is given to eligible. Women's Self Help Groups were organised to empower them economically. At present 35 SHG groups are active out of which 15 groups have started small businesses by getting loans from the government. Apart from money matters they discuss family, health, education related issues in the meetings and women are given necessary counseling whenever it is required.

Vocational training like nursing, tailoring, beautician courses is promoted to the deserving candidates, which helped many ladies to get employment opportunities. A few activities like Hobby classes, picnics, English classes, drawing classes are also conducted.

Learning Community: This project has been running for three years now. Through this project the organisation works with young girls in the community, by motivating them to study and be independent, helping them to face and handle issues of various types of harassments faced by them, helping them to participate more in community activities by organising and taking part in various community activities, thereby bringing about an overall development in the lives of girls.
